The play, Forgotten Voices by Malcolm McKay, takes place in the late 1950's and is based on the true testimonies of those that bore witness to the fear, mud and carnage on the front line of the First World War. Collected by the Sound Archives of the Imperial War Museum it tells the story of 5 survivors, 4 men and 1 woman. After they have given their testimonies they meet in the art gallery of the museum where there are some of the great paintings of WW1 including 'Gassed' by John Singer Sargent.

This year marks the 100th anniversary of the end of The Great War. 'Forgotten Voices' is our contribution to the many events that will be held to mark this occasion.
